

Our commitment to you

- We treat people equally, with fairness, courtesy, respect and good faith.
- We respect your rights, dignity and autonomy.
- We practice with conscience and integrity.
- We pursue knowledge and maintain our equipment in order to practice with the highest standard of professional competence.
- We respect the confidence of the information received in the course of the professional consultation.
- We only disclose information where you consent or the law requires.
- We ensure you always receive referrals when required.
- We inform you of the costs of any treatment and appliances.